

TO URGE FEDERAL CORRUPTION LAW

Clapp Committee Would Take Drastic Steps to Keep Business Out of Politics

TO STOP "INDIVIDUAL" AID

Officers and Directors of Corporations to Be Prohibited from Contributing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Diversity of politics from business—big or little—by enactment of corrupt practices acts more stringent than any of the "model" laws now in effect in several states, will be the demand urged upon congress by the Clapp committee of the senate.

As yet the members have not met to frame any specific recommendations. Their investigation of campaign finances is temporarily halted probably to be resumed after the election. But it became known today that there would be no partisanship in their appeal to congress for statutes which would bar from future campaign war chests, money from corporations. The committee members represent the three great national parties, and are unanimous in their opinion as to political reform.

No Law at Present

There is now no provision of any code, requiring publicity of pre-convention financing. A few states have laws requiring reports, which incidentally display use of presidential funds, but there is no federal statute on this point. The only law relating to campaign contributions refers to elections at which senators and representatives are chosen, which in a way involves presidential candidates but does not specifically include them.

To supervise scrupulously the election of presidents, senators and representatives will be the scope of the new law, the senators indicated today, without hesitation. Here in part is what they propose to include: Prohibition of contributions by any "trust," large or small, or any corporation to presidential, senatorial or congressional campaign funds.

Prohibit "Individual" Aid

Prohibition of large "individual" contributions to such campaigns from any officers or directors of any corporation.

Publication of campaign receipts by all candidates, including presidential; to occur four times—during and thirty or sixty days after the nomination or primary campaign and during and after the election.

Limitation of the size of contributions from individuals. One senator favors $10,000 as the limit; another favors $5,000.

Publication of how every cent in any campaign was spent—the names of recipients and detailed explanations of the purpose—twice during the primary and general election campaigns.

Prison sentences, as well as heavy fines, for campaign officials who break the law.

Adjustment of the law so as to cover both the convention and primary systems for presidential and all other candidates.

Candidates Must Sign

To impose on each presidential candidate knowledge of the amount and sources of the financial support by requiring the candidates certification to the statement of his finances.

To require not only national campaign managers, but state, district and even ward or precinct managers to report the money received or spent.

Strict accounting of all campaign promises of appointments or political rewards.

Machinery to enforce the new law, it is learned, may cause creation of a new federal bureau of elections.

While the senators are united in framing an immediate appeal to congress for political reform, they are "split wide open," in one feature. Their several positions preclude unanimous or even a majority report regarding past performances in the financial ring of politics. In fact, there is no "majority" of the committee. It has five members. Senators Pomerene and Paynter are Democrats. Senators Oliver, Clapp and Jones are Republicans. But Senator Clapp, the chairman, is an ardent Roosevelt supporter—a progressive.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 28.—About to enter his home early today, John McQuenny, 38, was attacked by a stranger who in the course of a struggle bit off McQuenny's nose. The latter is in a hospital. His assailant escaped.

REINCARNATION IS PROBLEM SOLUTION

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28.—The solution of the servant problem is through reincarnation, according to Miss Bernard Russak, who lectured here. When servants once understand that faithful service during their present life will be rewarded with a better job when next they appear on earth, their work will improve, Miss Russak declared.

"Man must return to earth time after time, until he arrives at the degree of master," said Miss Russak. "In the next appearance on earth the erstwhile waitress, chambermaid, footman or parlor maid may become a restaurant owner, financier or grand dame, according to his or her attainments."

Thus according to Miss Russak, the proper way for a housewife to establish an entente cordiale between herself and her servants is to start a crusade to convert them to the doctrine of reincarnation. Miss Russak did not go into further details as to the methods of conversion to be used.

MADERO TO HAVE DIAZ EXECUTED

Mexican President Says He Will Not Commute Sentence of the Rebel

WANTS VENGEANCE FOR 1869

Says He will Revenge Himself on Nephew for Porfirio Diaz's Bloodshed

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—President Madero today declared that he had absolutely determined not to commute the sentences of General Felix Diaz, Colonel Augustin Migan, and Commander Fernando Zarate, the revolutionists on whom court martial at Vera Cruz has passed the death sentence.

The president made this assertion to deputations of women and newspaper men who called upon him today, saying that he made a mistake in sparing the life of General Reyes, who, he says, is now conspiring against the government from prison. Madero also speaks of taking vengeance for the blood spilled by Porfirio Diaz in the revolution of 1869, in his talks to petitioners for the life of the former president's nephew.

Whether the life of Diaz is to be saved now depends solely on the decision of the supreme court as to the legality of the general's trial by a military court. The foreign colonies, through committees, will intercede in his behalf today, but the case seems hopeless.

"I will not pardon Diaz or his associates," Madero repeats over and over.

If Diaz, Migan and Zarate are executed, the work of the court martial will be completed. Eighteen officers under Diaz were arraigned yesterday. Eight were found not guilty and set free and the rest were sentenced to be shot within 24 hours, but a stay of execution was granted.

The democrats held a rousing rally in Burr Oak Saturday night, at which W. F. Wolfe spoke on state and national issues. Mr. Wolfe declared that Governor F. E. McGovern is not entitled to the support of the republicans of this state because of his declaration for Roosevelt after he had been nominated by the republicans. Mr. Wolfe took up John C. Karel's record as judge in Milwaukee county and urged his election on the ground that he would make as good a governor as he did a judge. Mr. Wolfe also urged the election of W. N. Coffland, saying that he is the progressive candidate for congress.

The republican campaign opens this week with a meeting at the Centennial hall and the Bluff Arcade tonight. Assemblyman J. E. McConnell and Senator Otto Bosshard will be the speakers at the Centennial hall. County Chairman J. E. Higbee and District Attorney James Thompson will speak at the Bluff Arcade.

Neither the democratic or the bull moose parties have meetings tonight. Although no definite arrangements have been made, the local bull moose leaders are planning on having one more speaker of national prominence deliver a speech in this city before the close of the campaign. The last big meeting of the campaign will be held in the La Crosse Theater Monday evening when Congressman J. J. Esch and Assemblyman John E. McConnell will deliver speeches.

ARBITRATION BOARD MEETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The board of arbitration, which heard evidence in the wage dispute between the engineers and the trunk line railroads in the eastern traffic association territory, met this afternoon to consider its award. It was reported that the board would recommend standardization of wages and that the men would get at least a part of the increases demanded. None of the members of the board, however, would admit the truth of its report and information was withheld until the report is completed.

They will testify regarding Mrs. Lindloff's experiments with poison with dogs and cats, and of the death of a baby which was left in Mrs. Lindloff's care for a day.

KILLS THREE AND HANGS HIMSELF

Sheboygan Farmer Shoots Wife's Family when Refused Permission to See Spouse

THE COUPLE WERE SEPARATED

Body of Murderer Found by Officers Hanging to a Tree in the Woods

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Oct. 28.—Four persons are dead today as a result of a sensational triple murder and suicide in the farm home of Phillip Ott, wealthy farmer and stockman, near Plymouth, Wis., fifteen miles west of here last night.

The dead: Phillip Ott, aged 45.
Mrs. Phillip Ott, aged 42.
Fred Haut, 80, father of Mrs. Ott.
Alvin Roeher, 23, son-in-law of Ott.

Roeher, the young farmer son-in-law of Ott appeared at the Ott home last night and after being refused permission to see his wife formerly Marie Ott, daughter of the wealthy stockman, from whom he had been separated, shot and killed Haut, the aged grandfather, Mrs. Ott and her husband.

He then went to a nearby wood and hanged himself. His body was found today.

Roeher married a daughter of the wealthy farmer one and one-half years ago and settled down on a farm near the Ott home. Domestic troubles followed the birth of a son and the couple separated. Mrs. Roeher returning to the home of her parents, according to neighbors. A fight in the courts followed for possession of the child in which Mrs. Roeher, aided by her father, was successful.

Young Roeher appeared at the Ott home early last night and demanded to see his wife. He was met at the door by Fred Haut, the aged grandfather, who refused, Roeher, it is charged, raised a shotgun he carried and shot the old man dead. Mrs. Ott then appeared and was shot to death by her son-in-law. She was closely followed by her husband who met a similar fate. Mrs. Roeher, who was in an upstairs room of the Ott home, was not molested by her husband, according to her story. Frightened by the tragedy which occurred almost before her eyes, the young wife remained in the upper room three hours before leaving the house and notifying the authorities at Plymouth. A four year old child, brother of Mrs. Roeher, was the only other witness.

TO KEEP UP PLANTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Receivers for the United States Motor company before Judge Hough in the United States district court here today reported that it was advisable to continue the manufacturing plants of the Maxwell-Briscoe company at Tarrytown, N. Y., New Castle, Ind., and Auburn, R. I., in order that cars might be delivered in the spring of 1913. The present schedule of the plants will be completed by December, James N. Rosenberg, attorney for the receivers, reported. The expense of running the plants will be $2,300,000 for three months, it was said.

FATHER VAUGHAN LOST

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Although Father Bernard Vaughan, London Catholic clergyman, and noted in several countries as an orator, failed to appear here to lecture and a telegraphic search for the last 36 hours has failed to locate him. Priests at St. Ignace college, where he was to entertain, express no fear for his safety. "Father Vaughan has likely stopped at some town to lecture," said Rev. D. M. Johnson of college. "I expect I shall hear him later in the day."

COMMITTEE INSPECTS ROAD

The special street improvement committee of the city council accompanied by the mayor and members of the board of public works, spent the afternoon in making an inspection of the La Crosse highway which is now being repaired by the city. ## BALLOONS OVER SEA

CANNSTATT, Germany, Oct. 28.—Twenty balloons released here yesterday in the race for the international cup, were sweeping toward the North sea today. Considerable alarm was felt concerning the aeronauts. They can, of course, descend if they choose before passing the coast, but it was feared some of them might attempt to reach England and failing, drown.

BABES DIE ON EVE OF THEIR BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—There are two little white cakes with tiny unlighted candles lying on the table at 456 Mot avenue today. Streaming from the bell pull of the outer door are two streamers of white crepe. In the front room, with the curtains closely drawn, are two white covered little coffins inside of which are two tiny forms. The father and mother, broken hearted, sit beside them with only a memory to help the heart pangs.

A year ago Mrs. John Reilly's twins were born. For days the doctor called as mother and children were in a bad way. The doctor told the father and mother if the babies lived a year they would probably live to womanhood. Today was the birthday. At midnight Mrs. Reilly was awakened by a choking sound in the children's crib. She found Catherine in convulsions. She died before a doctor could be called. Two hours later the other child, Anna, was also stricken and died while her father was searching for the doctor.

PRISONERS STOP SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Take Razor from Herman Singer in the County Jail Last Saturday

NECK, ARM AND LEG CUT

May Be Sent to Insane Asylum; Now in Local Hospital

Grabbing a razor from one of the prisoners who had been shaving, Herman Singer, a north side jeweler, cut his neck, right arm and right leg at the county jail Saturday evening but none of the cuts were serious. The razor was taken from him by the other prisoners and Singer was removed to the St. Francis Hospital where he is resting easily today.

Several of the prisoners at the county jail in adjoining cells were shaving Saturday evening when Mr. Singer suddenly reached for a razor and cut himself. The cut on his neck was but a slight one as were also the cuts on his arm and leg and he suffered little from them as they were not of a serious nature and he lost but little blood. As soon as it was seen that Singer had cut himself, the razor was taken away from him by the other prisoners.

Dr. H. E. Wolf was called and Mr. Singer was removed to the St. Francis Hospital shortly afterwards. Mr. Singer is getting along so well today that it is thought that he will be taken back to the county jail within a short time.

Singer was serving a thirty day sentence in the county jail for drunkenness and he has served but a few days of his term. Sheriff Chris Burns stated today that he does not know whether the prisoner cut himself with the intent of committing suicide or whether he was still affected with drink and did not know what he was doing or whether he thought that some enemies were after him and that he was defending himself as he sometimes imagined.

It is not known yet whether Singer will be taken back to the county jail or if he will be adjudged insane and taken to Mendota. He was once before sent to Mendota.

Have You Registered?

TOMORROW IS THE LAST DAY YOU MUST APPEAR IN PERSON

This is the final word of City Clerk Edward Hoffman. If you have moved from one ward to another, or from outside the city or county, or if by failure to vote on preceding elections you have lost your standing as a recorded voter, you must go tomorrow in person and register in the booth of your precinct.

Everybody wants to vote on a presidential year. If you are not registered, register at once. If you are in doubt as to your standing, make sure of it by registering. The election lasts but one day, and you can vote in five minutes. But when the voting is over YOU MUST ABIDE THE RESULTS FOR FOUR LONG YEARS.

DO IT NOW!

SOFIA, Oct. 28.—That the Bulgarians have captured Eski Baba from the Turks was officially confirmed this afternoon. The town is about sixty miles by rail or thirty miles as the crow flies, southeast of Adrianople, and almost on a direct line between the latter place and Constantinople, whence it is distance only a little more than 100 miles. The capture means that the Bulgarians have cut Adrianople off from communication from the capital. The Turks retreated by rail toward Constantinople.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Balkan allies have notified the powers that they will listen to no pleas for a restoration of peace with the Sultan except on the basis of a division of practically the whole of European Turkey among themselves, according to report on good diplomatic authority here today. All that they are willing to leave of the Ottoman empire on this side of the Bosphorus is Constantinople and a small district surrounding it, it was said.

The allies plan is to extend Bulgaria south to the Aegean Sea, to give Servia an Adriatic seaport, and to hand northern Albania over to Montenegro. The rest of Albania and Macedonia, they propose to transform into two independent principalities, united by a close alliance with the rest of the league.

Austria Abandons Powers

Austria, it is understood, has entirely abandoned negotiations with the other powers looking toward intervention in the Balkan struggle, and is in communication with the capitals of Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro and Greece in an effort to convince them that they will do better to hand over a share to Franz Joseph than to force him to fight for it, which it is asserted has been plainly intimated the Austrians will do unless they get it by peaceful means.

After Salonika

BELGRADE, Oct. 28.—Now that Pristina, Uskub and Isib have fallen into the hands of the combined Servian and Bulgarian forces operating in western Turkey, it was said here today that the allies intend to strike south for Salonika. If they succeed in establishing themselves along this front, they will have cut off approximately half of European Turkey from Constantinople.

Battle Line Long

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The Turko-Bulgarian fighting line extended today from Adrianople nearly to the Black Sea, according to the best information obtainable from the front. Fierce fighting was reported, both from Sofia and Constantinople. As usual, both sides claimed the advantage.

The same general engagement has been raging since last Wednesday morning along a front almost 100 miles today.

Adrianople was still holding out, at least operations against it were hampered by a heavy rain. The Turks continued to claim the recapture of Kirk Kilissa and the Bulgarians deny it. The Bulgarian version was generally accepted here as true.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—There will be no all-night seance for Governor Wilson election night if the candidate has his way. He made it plain here that he expects to go to bed about nine o'clock that night and have a good night's rest, no matter which way the early returns indicate the election has gone. The governor is having wires put in in his home, but he made it very plain that the returns received over that will be for the benefit of the members of his family and the persons who have accompanied him throughout the campaign.

"I expect to go to bed myself election night," said the governor, "about nine o'clock and go to sleep. I never got any satisfaction out of fragmentary figures, and never expect to. I would rather wait until the morning and get the figures in complete, comprehensive form."

COLONEL TIRES EASILY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—For the second time since his return from Chicago, Colonel Roosevelt today ventured out doors. He found that, while he is gaining strength, he is far weaker than he had expected.

The ex-president still suffers occasional pains from the bullet wound and tires quickly. Only by mustering all the strength at his command will he be able to pull through the speech at Madison Square Garden on Wednesday night. The colonel it was announced today, will be at the garden without fail but the doctors reiterated that they would permit him to speak only half an hour.

SENATOR DEFENDS THE INCOME TAX

La Follette in His Oshkosh
Speech Shows the Justice of the New Law

SAYS INTERESTS OPPOSE IT

Opposition Comes from Those Who Seek to Dodge Rightful
Burden

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 28.—Senator Robert M. La Follette spoke to the people of Oshkosh this morning on the issues of the state campaign, making his principal theme the justice of the income tax law. The principal opposition thereto he ascribed to interests which sought to dodge their rightful share of taxes. He asked his hearers to give it a fair trial. Senator La Follette spoke as follows:

Senator's Speech

"All parties and a tremendous majority of the popular vote of the people have declared for a state income tax. Notwithstanding the tremendous lobby which interested parties brought to bear upon the legislature to prevent the fulfillment of this party pledge, the legislature called in the best experts whom it could find and spent, conscientiously, several months in working out the income law. They knew that no state in the union had ever succeeded in making the income tax anything more than ridiculous. They sought out the reasons for the failure of the income tax in other states and they framed a law fair both in the rates imposed upon the rich and the exemptions extended to the poor, temperate and restrained but not weak or ineffective.

"Now that it is known that the efforts of the legislature were both honest and effective, the same interested parties, who failed in their job, are misrepresenting the facts to the people of the state. They have stirred up dissatisfaction among thousands of people on account of the necessary details in filling out statements that would actually show income. Had these statements been merely perfunctory and not such as would really show what the incomes were, they would not have raised a complaint, but the filling out of the schedule is the very essence of an effective income tax. It is the honest man's protection against the tax dodger. It is the only means by which the tax commission can ascertain whether a person should pay an income tax at all, and if he should pay, how much the tax should be. To raise a clamor against the trouble of filling out these schedules is to strike at the very foundations of what has made the Wisconsin income tax law a success.

Not Tax Increase

"The next misrepresentation was the charge that the income tax is an increase in taxation. The income tax does not mean an increase of taxation for all the people. It means first of all, lower tax rates on real estate, as is shown by the recent reduction of the city tax in Milwaukee, and the announcement of contemplated reduction in Madison. It does mean an increase for those who have not been paying their fair share of taxes or have been dodging the tax on personal property. The legislature at the very time when it enacted the income tax law immediately abolished taxation of stocks, bonds, credits of all kinds, household furniture, farm machinery and other classes of personal property which had most flagrantly and unjustly escaped assessment in some localities. The legislature did not abolish at once all of the personal property taxes because it was uncertain how much the income tax would yield. The republicans now promise, knowing that they have an effective income tax law, that the other personal property taxes shall also be abolished. For the time being personal property taxes are assessed, but they are deducted from the income tax, so that all persons whose personal property taxes were less than the income tax are immediately placed in the income tax class.

"Another misrepresentation grows out of the fact that the assessment of the income tax is turned over

When you comb and brush your hair in the morning, watch for the "TRAILERS" that turn grey, fall out, and comb out with the first morning brush.

You MUST know that there's something wrong. If your hair is in good health, it wouldn't fall out, nature never intended that. There is something wrong at the root of things—the hair needs a tonic—a restorer. When you are sick you take medicine. That is your first thought. Its turning grey, falling out, are both ways the hair has of "complaining of illness." It can't do it in any other way.—Do YOUR part. Use HAY'S HAIR HEALTH

WORST STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED

"Pape's Diapepsin" gives instant relief and the relief lasts

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.—Advertisement.

from local assessors to the state tax commission. This leads to the familiar charge that the state commissions are growing in power as against local government. But a state commission is the only possible organization that can administer an income tax. Had the legislature desired to fool the people it might have left the assessment of incomes to local assessors as had been done in the other states where the income tax was purposely made ridiculous. As a matter of fact, turning this matter over to the tax commission has greatly reduced the number of tax assessors and has greatly increased their ability. In 1911, there were 71 supervisors of assessments and they cost the counties $50,000 a year. Now there are 39 assessors of incomes, selected through civil service examinations, and their expenses are paid by the state.

Raises 3 Millions

"The income tax assessed this year will exceed $3,300,000, of which about 66 per cent is on corporations and 34 per cent on firms and individuals. This is far in excess of the amount derived by other states, and even exceeds the amount secured by the first federal income tax in 1863, which was $2,741,588.25.

"The income tax will not only bring in additional revenue to the counties and municipalities, but it will greatly improve the distribution of the tax burden. The tax commission made a detailed study of the effects of the tax in the counties of Dodge, Chippewa, Rusk, Marathon and Dane. In these counties they find that personal property taxes to the amount of $290,084.97 had been paid by persons who are entirely exempt under the income tax. The 5-160 persons who are subject to the income tax, on the other hand, paid personal property taxes amounting to only $190,142.39. That is to say, the persons who, according to the income tax standard, are not able to pay at all, have paid more personal property tax than all the rest of the community. The tax commission also found that those whose income is under $1,000 are paying only about three-fifths as much income tax as their personal taxes were in 1911. There are 3,500 persons whose income is less than $1,000. In 1911 they paid a personal property tax of $26,589.11, but their income tax is only $16,213.20. In other words, these persons whose incomes were less than $1,000 had been paying a personal property tax which averaged $7.00, but now their average income tax is only $5.00.

"It is found also that 825 persons whose incomes ranged between $1,000 and $2,000 are paying precisely the same average income tax as they had been paying personal property tax, namely $23.00. But when we pass to those whose incomes are between $2,000 and $3,000 we find that their average personal tax of $46 has been increased to an income tax of $51; and as we go up the income tax increases until among those whose incomes are over $10,000 we find an average income tax of $13.47 contrasted with an average personal tax of $7.43. It is plain that the income tax has increased the taxes of those who have large incomes. It is equally plain that the personal property tax penalizes the man with a small income and that the promise of the republican party to abolish the personal property tax will bring welcome relief to those classes of the community who are least able to bear the burden of taxation.

Depended on Assessors

"Another reason for the great inequality of the personal tax was the different efficiency of the thousands of local assessors who assessed it. In the county of Douglas, containing the city of Superior, the assessed value of monies and credits per capita was only two mills but in La Crosse county, with its City of La Crosse, the assessed value of monies and credits was $42.63 per capita. Take the single county of Kenosha. In one town, Pleasant Prairie, the monies and credits assessed were only $.06 per capita, but in the city of Kenosha they were $105.95 per

LA CROSSE GETS 1913 CONFERENCE

Universalist and Unitarian Joint Convention to Be Held Here Next
October

La Crosse will have the next annual joint conference of the Universalist and Unitarian churches, to be held in October, 1913. This was the decision of the 1912 conference, in session at Madison Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The La Crosse delegation from the St. Paul's Universalist church was the largest of any at the conference, with the exception of Madison, where the meeting was held. Twelve from La Crosse were at the conference.

In addition to securing the conference for next year, La Crosse came back with two out of three banners offered for Sunday schools of churches in the organization. One banner was for the largest average of attendance in relation to the enrollment of the school. La Crosse's average was 85 per cent. The other banner was for the largest number of Sunday school members received into the church in the past year.

Among the prominent men who spoke at the Madison conference, and who will probably be at La Crosse next year were: Rev. L. R. Fisher, D. D., Universalist Theological House, Chicago university; Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Lincoln Center, Chicago; Rev. Walter Greenman, Milwaukee, and Richard Lloyd Jones, editor of the Madison State Journal, who represented the laymen of the conference.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 28.—Arthur Smith proved himself a modern Lochinvar Saturday when he placed his fiancée, Miss Almee Cour, beside him in his biplane and flew to Hillsdale, Mich., 75 miles away, where they were married. capita. Hundreds of startling discriminations and discrepancies like this would appear if we should pass over the entire record of all the towns and counties in the state, and the assessment was high in the country compared with the city, as often as the reverse. The assessment of monies and credits has been not only ridiculous but a most unjust discrimination has existed among towns, counties and individuals. This injustice can not take the income tax under which a state commission takes the place of hundreds of local and inexperienced assessors. Every person, every individual, every corporation and every town and county are treated exactly alike and all pay a tax upon exactly the same basis and exactly in proportion to their ability."

WHAT WILSON SAYS ABOUT LA FOLLETTE

In a recent speech at Wilmington, Delaware, Governor Woodrow Wilson said:

"Now there arose up in Wisconsin that indomitable little figure of Bob La Follette. I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, I doff my cap to Bob La Follette. He has never taken his eye for a single moment from the goal he set out to reach. He has walked a straight line to it in spite of every temptation to look to one side. Do you remember that story in the Arabian Nights of the man who was bent on a quest to the top of a great mountain to bring an enchanted bird that was there singing lonely in a cage, and how he was warned that he must not heed any voice by the wayside, that he would find the way-side strewn with great stones, that everyone of these stones was some traveler in quest of that enchanted bird who had allowed himself to be drawn aside, and had turned back at the call of some voice—for the very stones cried out—and just so surely as he looked aside or turned back, he himself would be transfixed and turned into a stone? I have sometimes thought of Senator La Follette climbing that mountain of privilege in order to take away the only precious thing that was in it, namely, the rights of the people of the United States, and the stones—the Standpat stones—crying out to him: 'Bob, look around. You are on the wrong journey. This is not the way. You are betraying us.'"

"I love these lonely figures climbing that ugly mountain of privilege. But they are not so lonely now. I am sorry for my own part that I did not come in when they were fewer. There was no credit to come in when I came in. The whole nation had awakened. All of New Jersey, at any rate, was tired of the game, and was willing to try an unsophisticated schoolmaster; because it was in search of somebody that did not know how to play the old game."

More guardedly, Senator La Follette has given a strong hint to progressives to vote for Wilson. Were La Follette a candidate for office on the republican ticket, Wilson, too, would have been more guarded. But the essential fact stands out. Wilson praises what La Follette is and what he has done, including the things that Judge Karel proposes to undo. La Follette seizes every opportunity, within party ethics, to help Wilson. Wilson for president and McGovern for governor—that is the outcome that progressives of all parties know will be most advantageous for state and nation.

IT HELPS NO ONE BUT HURTS MR. BRYAN

Standpat democrats may be expected to make much of Mr. Bryan's apologetic endorsement of Judge Karel, but there is little in it to afford them real comfort.

Mr. La Follette, while criticizing Governor McGovern on some points outside administrative affairs, urges his election to save the PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION WHICH JUDGE KAREL ATTACKS.

Mr. Bryan, placing himself on the defensive with the preliminary "side-step" that he is "not familiar with conditions in the state," asks votes for Karel on the ground that THE MEN AND CANDIDATES WHO ARE SUPPORTING GOV. WILSON SHOULD BE ELECTED.

That Senator La Follette is the more patriotic and statesmanlike reason needs no argument. The Bryan statement will get no Karel votes, for between the lines, Mr. Bryan admits the existence of a grave reason for defeating him.

The really regrettable thing about Mr. Bryan's action is that it is probably his gravest error of recent years. He is informed up to the minute on matters political, and it will be hard to explain to the satisfaction of progressive democrats of Wisconsin how he could in good conscience urge the election of a man who opposes everything for which Mr. Wilson stands, simply because for the sake of his own candidacy that man is compelled to adopt the attitude of a Wilson supporter. Mr. Bryan himself earnestly favors every one of the Wisconsin laws which Judge Karel would repeal. The Nebraskan did justice to neither himself nor the cause he represents; he is less frank than most of the progressive democrats who carried this state for Wilson.

WHAT LEADERSHIP GETS THIS COUNTY

Official data furnished by the assistant secretary of state shows that La Crosse county gets from the state $87,727.68 more than it pays the state.

This is of interest primarily because it shows the fraudulent nature of the anti-progressive claims that La Crosse county is being taxed to death to support the state, but it gives rise to another interesting thought.

What did La Crosse county ever get from the state before Tom Morris, J. E. McConnell and Otto Bossard were sent down there to represent this section?

Name a state institution, a state concession or an important state office under the old regime.

Of course you can't.

But now we have the lieutenant governor, and every one of our three administration officers looms big in the councils of the state capitol.

Four years ago La Crosse got out a "booster button" bearing the inscription, "Keep your eye on La Crosse." Merlín Hull, editor of the Black River Falls Banner, suggested that this motto be revised to read, "Keep one eye on La Crosse and the other on the state treasury."

Mr. Hull wouldn't say that out loud now, since the state built a dam to save his own city, but what he meant was plain. Since Messrs. Morris, McConnell and Bossard went to Madison this city has secured the best state normal school in Wisconsin, a state college of agriculture, a branch of the university extension department and a respectable good roads fund.

Now let's see what it amounts to. Take the state normal school alone. The state has spent $250,000 on the buildings and grounds. The state spends $50,000 every year to maintain the school. The faculty and students brought here by the school spend with the people of this city each year a sum approximating $200,000. That makes a permanent state investment of $250,000, and an annual total of $200,000 put in circulation here by the state, faculty and pupils.

It's as good as one of our biggest factories, and we get it for a song, for the entire state helps to foot the bill. If there's a county in the state that ought to give three cheers for state taxes, it's this same La Crosse county. We are given a bonus for not paying any.

LABOR DOES WELL TO GUARD ITS FORT

It is reassuring to note the interest in the welfare of labor, as represented by legislation, shown by the La Crosse Trades and Labor council. The resolution urging the retention of a number of valuable laws illustrates a healthy concern for the interests of working people.

It is well that labor's representatives are thus on the alert. The organization that fails to protect its own interests will be the less likely to find others constantly protecting them. Be it man, society or union, to be "on the job" is of the essence of success, and eternal vigilance is the price of self preservation.

We have no doubt that members of the trades and labor council realize that there are many more laws by which working people in common with all others profit, but lest the issue be confused they selected laws of sole and deep interest to labor. They made themselves plain, and it will be indeed a foolhardy politician who dares to ignore the clean-cut warning not to molest the hard-earned measures with which the state aims to give to labor something like a square deal.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Procrastination
 If ever there was a thief
 You steal away the precious hours
 And leave our work undone.
 You argue that tomorrow will
 A wealth of time supply.
 And so you keep on putting off,
 And thus the days go by.

You take a victim well and strong
 And fit to make his mark
 And keep him busy wasting time
 From morning until dark.
 And when he tries your charm to break
 You come with winning smile
 And say there will be time enough
 In just a little while.

When duty says "Arise and work,"
 "That's proper, quite," you say
 And strongly urge that very thing
 Tomorrow or next day.
 You make him think the future holds
 Such quantities of time
 That to arouse and use some now
 Is little short of crime.
 And so you keep man hanging off
 Until his life is spent.
 When he endeavors to arouse
 Excuses you invent
 Until he in those wasted years
 Has feeble grown and gray.
 And still you whisper in his ear,
 "Tomorrow, not today."

Waited for the Ordeal
 "He can't talk to a girl for five minutes without making love to her."
 "I shouldn't think that would make much of a hit."
 "It doesn't."
 "But will the girls listen to him?"
 "They usually manage to stay around for five minutes."

Couldn't See It
 "My dear, I have discovered a new wrinkle."
 "What is it?"
 "In your double chin."
 "Horrid creature! It ain't no such thing."

Anyway
 "Does your daughter like to go to school?"
 "Well, she prefers it to washing dishes and dusting."

Quite Likely
 "Why do you suppose she married him?"
 "Maybe she followed the line of least resistance."

Cause for Failure
 If we will do the best we can
 We somehow will pull through.
 But that is what, I greatly fear,
 We very seldom do.

Proof
 "I can't understand it!"
 "Understand what?"
 "How such a smart, successful business woman like Bell came to marry such a fool as that fellow."
 "I think you underestimate the young man. I think he shows good business acumen."
 "In what way?"
 "In marrying Bell."

Had a Nice Tombstone
 Once upon a time there was a bold bad man whose whole life was an exercise in revolt. When he entered a shop or establishment with swing doors, one of which was labeled "Pull" and the other "Push," he pushed the one which he should have pulled, and on leaving he pulled the one which he should have pushed. Wherever it was forbidden he walked on the grass, and threw orange-peel on the pavement. He smoked in the lift. On railway journeys he put heavy articles on the hat rack and his feet on the opposite seat, and got out before the train stopped. Yet when he came to die he had just as nice a tombstone as anybody else.

Fishin'
 Supposin' fish don't bite at first
 What are you goin' to do?
 Throw down the pole, chuck out your bait,
 And say your fishin's through?
 You bet you ain't; you're goin' to bait,
 And fish, and fish, and wait,
 Until you've caught a basketful,
 Or used up all your bait.

Supposin' success don't come at first,
 What are you goin' to do?
 Throw up the sponge and kick yourself.
 And growl, and fret, and stew?
 You bet you ain't; you're goin' to fish,
 And bait, and bait ag'in,
 Until success holds on your hook,
 For grit is sure to win.

 Cynicus—Chiefly of one not to the manner born.

"Strange how few college men are able to support themselves."
 "All the candidates who ask our support this year are college men."

HE COMES UP SMILING

Copyright Bobbe-Merrill Co.

Bartlett knew Billy. Billy said that she was going to marry this man and so she would marry him—unless something more effective than verbal opposition were used. He had never exerted any authority over Billy and knew it would be too late to begin now. Billy would only laugh at him. But after all, he was Billy's father, he loved the girl and had some right to object to her marriage with a tramp.

He glanced at the thin clever face beside him and admitted that the man had brains and apparently was not besotted or brutalized, merely indifferent, lazy and wholly unambitious; besides, very young, impatient of restraint and the dull grind of a poor man's life.

"Who are your people?" asked Bartlett to gain time. He must make a plan to separate Billy from this impecunious suitor. Authority was useless. He must use tact, finesse. "My father was a minister," returned the Watermelon. "Yours was a grocer. Billy told me. Families don't count in America."

Bartlett nodded agreement. "Why did you become a tramp?"

"Through inclination, not the whisky bottle. Not that I am above getting full once in a while, 'cause I ain't. Just, I'm not a drunkard. See? I didn't keep on losing jobs through drink and finally had to take to the road because I was a bum. I took to tramping because I hate to work. It takes too much of your time. An office is like a prison to me. A man loses his soul when he stays all day bent over a desk. He isn't a man. He's a sort of up-to-date planola to a desk, that's all. There's a lot of things to think about that you can't in an office. I wanted to think and so I took to tramping. Besides, I don't like work."

"Lazy—"

"Yes," snapped the Watermelon, "but a man. I love your Billy—my Billy, and I can work for her."

Bartlett nodded indifferently, hardly hearing what the other said. He frowned thoughtfully at the floor as he pondered the situation. If he objected to the youth in Billy's presence, she would stand up for him, all her love would be aroused to arms and she would see no wrong in her hero. If the fellow snapped his fingers, she would run away with him. What did Billy, tender, gently-guarded Billy, know of tramps, of the rough, unhappy side of existence? Nothing. But if she caught a glimpse of it with her own eyes, saw this lover of hers in his true light, dirty, drunk, disreputable, the shock would kill her love utterly and Bartlett would not have to use that authority of his which was no authority, which Billy would refuse to obey. She had been free too long for any one to govern her now. The only person who could effectively break the unfortunate tangle was the Watermelon himself. Bartlett glanced at the gloomy face beside him and read it as he had grown used to reading men and events.

The Watermelon was young, hardly older than Billy; he was desperately in love, with a love that was pure and true and generous. He was thinking of Billy and not of himself. His opposition to Bartlett was merely the anger aroused by Bartlett's sneers. He was in reality filled with humility and repentance to a degree that he would do anything to kill the love Billy bore for him, knowing with his man's knowledge that he was not worthy of her, and longing with his youth and love to sacrifice himself for her best good, seeing through young, unhappy eyes, only the past, his own shame and profession. Forgetting the possibilities of the future, he had gone to the extreme of self-loathing. The one thing he saw was his past, that past that was wholly unfit for Billy. It blocked the entire view, crushed him with the weight of inexorable facts. To the young there are but two colors, black and white, and the Watermelon was very young. Bartlett looked at him keenly and decided that his plan would work, that he would not have to take a last desperate and ineffectual stand against Billy.

"See here. In August we are going to our place in Westhaven. It's a small town in this state, up the coast away north of Portland. Come to her there at the end of August, come as you are, a tramp, dirty, shabby, drunk—"

"I don't drink, not as the others do."

"Come drunk. Let her understand what being a tramp means, what your life has been. If she still wants you, I hardly see how I can stop her. That's only fair, for what does she know about you and your life? You know all about her, what she has done and been and is going to do. Leave her now, this evening. Go on being a tramp and then come to her, at the last of August. Come as a tramp, mind. Don't let her think that it is a test she is being put to or she will only laugh at it and us and go on wanting you just the same, scorning to be tested, to think that her love could fail. Give her some other excuse for your going. You must see that it is only fair to the little girl to let her see what she is up against."

"Yes, I see. I tried to tell her," agreed the Watermelon gloomily. "If she loves you through it all, she can have you, and I suppose I'll have to consent. I can afford a penniless son-in-law and I guess an

All Sores Are Not Cancerous

While all Old Sores are not cancerous in their nature, every slow healing ulcer shows a degenerated condition of the blood. Virulent impurities in the circulation produce angry, discharging ulcers, while milder and more inert germs are usually manifested in the form of indolent sores or dry, scabby places. Efforts to heal an old sore with external applications always result in failure because such treatment does not reach the blood, and the ulcer will continue to eat deeper into the surrounding flesh as long as a polluted circulation discharges its impurities into it. S.S.S. heals old sores of every nature by purifying the blood. It goes to the fountain-head of the trouble and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which prevent the place from healing. Then a stream of rich, nourishing blood, which S. S. S. creates, causes a perfect and natural knitting together of all flesh fibres, making a thorough and permanent cure. The sore does not "come back" when S. S. S. has made a cure, because its source has been destroyed. Book on sores and ulcers and medical advice free.

VICE PRESIDENT SHERMAN FEARS MOB; BEGS VOTERS TO UPHOLD CONSTITUTION

Vice President James S. Sherman.

(By James S. Sherman)

There are two great issues in this campaign which stand out alone. One, our constitutional liberty; the other industrial opportunity. I realize fully the spirit of unrest that has been aroused during the last few years by muckrakers and demagogues, but I ask in all seriousness if any evils that have crept into our national affairs can be eliminated by breaking down our constitution, by attacking the courts or increasing the power of the mob.

We cannot improve the present social and civic situation by tearing down existing industrial conditions and abandoning opportunity for individual and national progress.

The man who has no money to bank is not interested in banking laws; the man who is without means to travel is not interested in railway rates; the man who lacks a surplus is not interested in judicial procedure or legislative enactment.

We are today enjoying a larger degree of prosperity, a greater volume of employment and higher individual and collective wages than ever before in our history. No man can be idle who can or will work. The newspapers in their want columns are printing tenfold more help wanted than situations wanted advertisements.

To re-elect President Taft would be to follow experience and not experiment. The government would continue to be safe in his hands. The nation's affairs would be efficiently and economically managed. Both capital and labor would be unafraid and safe-guarded against an inequitable foreign tariff and unjust conditions at home.

American tramp is preferable to a European noble."

"I won't be penniless," said the Watermelon. "I could work like a nigger for a month and own forty dollars, thirty of which I would owe for board."

"That's just it," declared Bartlett promptly. "You can't support Billy in the way she is used to being supported, can't give her the things that have become necessities to her."

"I can support her in my own way," said the Watermelon, trying to reason down his own benumbing repentance and humiliation as well as to convince Bartlett of that which he himself knew to be all wrong. (To be Continued)

DIPPY DOPE.

I'VE GOT THE SWEETEST GIRLIE THAT YOU COULD HOPE TO SEE— WE FELL IN LOVE, AS PER ABOVE THIS LITTLE GIRL AND ME—

SO WHEN I ASKED HER FOR HER HAND, SHE HANDED IT TO ME— SHE SAID "MY HEART GOES WITH IT." WE WERE HAPPY AS COULD BE—

BUT SOON A QUARREL STARTED, JUST AS QUARRELS ALWAYS DO. I SPOKE A FEW REAL STINGING WORDS THAT STUNG HER THROUGH AND THROUGH—

WE SOON MADE UP AND MARRIED. NOW HERE'S A LITTLE TIP: IF YOU GET MARRIED, WE ADVISE AGAINST A WEDDING TRIP.

THEY KEEP RIGHT ON.

WE shall be hearing about the 'Sweet Girl Graduates' pretty soon now, I suppose?" queries the old hunker of the man with the newspaper.

"Oh, yes."

"Always 'Sweet Girls'?"

"Always dress in white?"

"Invariably."

"Always graduate with the highest honors?"

"They do."

"And are spoken of in the papers next day as geniuses?"

"That is the rule, I believe."

"And can any one of them make bread?"

"Oh, no."

"Make a pudding?"

"No."

"Mix up pancakes?"

"No."

"But they keep right on graduating?"

"They do."

"And then getting married?"

"Yes, I think so."

"And they make such helpmates that their husbands soon get rich?"

"That is the way of it. Have you any fault to find?"

"Bless you, no! Hurrah for the 'Sweet Girl' graduates!"

JOE KERR.

Good Any Old Time.

ONCE upon a time a Tramp, who had cheerfully agreed to saw three sticks of wood once in two in consideration of a bountiful Dinner, had scarcely buried the saw in the wood before he paused to complain to the owner of the premises:

"Alas, I trusted to your integrity and did not stop to inspect the saw, which surely has not been sharpened for many years. Thus have I been made the victim of Deceit."

"Not so, my friend," replied the other. "Had the saw been in better order you would have had to saw me six sticks instead of three."

MORAL: Everything is all O. K. and right end up, if we only knew it. In this case the tramp broke the saw, the farmer broke the tramp and the dog got the dinner.

DOOMED TO DISAPPOINTMENT. Some folks think Andrew Carnegie an easy mark. I guess: At least, a lot of them inquire: The canny Scott's address.

JOHNSON INQUIRY RESUMED TODAY

Grand Jury Listens to the Testimony of Lucile Cameron in Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—After four days' delay on account of the death of Mrs. Ruth Parkin, mother of government Attorney Harry Parkin, at Elgin, Ill., the federal grand jury today resumed its inquiry into the conduct of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, with young white girls with a view of finding violations of the Mann white slave law. The chief witness today was Lucile Cameron, the nineteen year old Minneapolis girl whose mother brought a charge of abduction against Johnson.

Government agents announced that the Cameron girl would not be brought from the Rockford jail to testify today, and a large crowd which had gathered at the federal building to see her, went away. Then officers quietly slipped the girl and her mother into the building by an obscure entrance, and she was taken to the office of the United States marshal.

When the grand jury locked itself in, two city detectives took up posts near the marshal's office to arrest Lucile Cameron if she was released by the federal authorities after her testimony was concluded.

The detectives had been told that it was Johnson's plan to get the girl if she was released on bond or by a habeas corpus proceeding, and induce her to marry him. Isaac Doff, a county court agent held a warrant for the girl to be brought before an insanity board. The detectives were present to hold the girl until Doff's warrant was served, in order that Johnson or his friends could not get into touch with her.

A well dressed and extremely good looking white woman, whose identity was concealed by herself and the government agents, appeared in the grand jury witness room today and after a fifteen minute chat with Mrs. Cameron-Falconet and her daughter went before the jury, remaining until adjournment was taken till 2:30 this afternoon. Government officials admitted that she was "a witness in a white slave case," but they declined to call her a witness in the federal investigation of Johnson's case.

KANSAS FIGHTER WINS BY K. O. ROUTE

Ray Marshall.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Ray Marshall, of Atchison, Kas., who fights Tony Caponi of Chicago here in a fifteen round bout, October 29, is just nineteen years old, but has all the earmarks of a good pugilist.

His bout with Tony Caponi no doubt will be a test as to his real worth in the middleweight class. He fights at 153 pounds, but he and Caponi will weigh in at 168 pounds, the Chicago fighter refusing to make less.

While Marshall's home recently has been in Atchison, his parents live in Kansas City. He is under the management of Budd Knapp of St. Joseph, the veteran boxing fan and promoter, who also controls the business affairs of Freddie Daniels, a lightweight.

ALL LAY CLAIMS TO EMPIRE STATE

Democrat, Republican and Bull Moose Declare They Will Carry New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The claims of the various campaign managers so far as the state of New York is concerned exceeded in demand today, with election only eight days off, any of the "six best sellers."

State Chairman William Barnes, Jr., saying he had reports from one-third of the state that were "unusually accurate," declared President Taft will carry the state by 50,000. In support of this he cited his figures which gave Taft 110,000 up state, and Gov. Wilson only 50,000 plurality south of the Harlem river.

At democratic headquarters State Chairman Palmer had his figures showing that Wilson would carry the state, outside of Greater New York by between 30,000 and 50,000, and that "south of the Harlem," the democratic candidate would get more than 100,000 and very likely more than 150,000.

At Bull Moose headquarters State Chairman Hotchkiss was equally certain that both his rivals were wrong. He insisted that Roosevelt and Johnson would carry New York by "upwards of 50,000."

Miss Elsie Hadley of Fargo, N. D., has departed for her home after spending a few weeks visiting La Crosse friends.

M'MANIGAL AND RYAN CONFERRED

President of Ironworkers
Held Consultation with Witness During Conspiracy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 28.—The government scored a point today in the trial of the Iron Workers when it was shown that President Frank M. Ryan at headquarters, held a conference with Orlie E. McManigal, the confessed dynamite, during the time of the alleged dynamite conspiracy.

B. J. Cook, formerly a stenographer employed by J. J. McNamara, testified that McManigal called at headquarters August 25, 1910, and asked for McNamara. Told that the secretary-treasurer was away, McNamigal was received by Ryan, the witness said, and spent an hour in Ryan's private office, the door being closed throughout the interview. Cook identified much correspondence, the carrying case in which the government alleged J. B. McNamara carried dynamite, nitro-glycerine, and the alarm clocks, and other exhibits.

TOMAH DEFEATS REEDSBURG 13-7

Tomah Makes the Winning
Touchdown in the Last Quarter of Game
Saturday

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 28.—The Reedsburg football team surprised the Tomah eleven Saturday by almost winning, but a shoestring play in the last quarter gave Tomah a 13 to 7 victory. To all appearances the Tomah team looked faster, but they were outweighed by about twenty pounds to the man with the exception of Wright, Tomah's 220 pound tackle.

The game started with Tomah kicking off to Reedsburg and the ball was carried up and down the field with each team having possession of it. Tomah used the forward pass to great advantage, while Reedsburg employed the old style football. The first quarter ended with the count 0 to 0. In the second quarter, Grisswald, the Tomah halfback, went over the line for a touchdown after a few minutes of play, but the goal was missed. Reedsburg got its touchdown in the third quarter when their halfback intercepted a forward pass and ran seventy yards for a score. Goal was kicked, making the score Reedsburg 7, Tomah 6.

During the last quarter Tomah worked the ball up to the visitors' 25 yard line and Battalin took the ball over the line when he got out on a shoestring play and got a forward pass on which he scored the winning touchdown. Higgins kicked goal, making the final score Tomah 13, Reedsburg 7.

WILSON HITS AT PANIC ARGUMENT

Says Prosperity of the Country Will Not Be Affected by Democratic Victory

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 28.—Gov. Wilson was given an enthusiastic reception here at noon by a crowd of several thousand people. He talked about straw votes and the effect of a democratic administration on the business of the country.

"It is an interesting reflection to contrast the notorious straw votes with the actual votes in elections. When a straw vote is taken, every man realizes that he is really seeking for a man who in his judgment will make the best public officer. But I am sorry to say that when it comes to voting at elections, many of these men will say: 'I believe in Mr. A., but my interest—my narrow, peculiar interest—lies with Mr. B.'"

"At any rate those who support Mr. B. are more or less in the power of interests that put the screws on them."

"Men are no longer frightened by the old threats. Westchester expects, Pennsylvania expects, the country expects, the democratic ticket to win, and as the expectations grow, the prosperity of the country is not checked."

In conclusion, Gov. Wilson made the prediction business men who are not worrying over the possible outcome of a democratic victory, "will be justified."

Condition at His Home in Utica,

REGISTRATION THE CAUSE

Was Getting Better but
Trip to Polling Place
Caused Serious
Relapse

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Vice President James S. Sherman is in a critical condition at his home and the outcome of his sickness cannot be forecasted. His physician, Dr. R. M. Peck, admitted this fact this afternoon. He denied that he considered the condition of the vice president hopeless, but made no attempt to minimize the seriousness of his illness. The vice president is suffering from a complication of ailments which have induced weakness in his heart action and he experiences great difficulty in breathing.

Mr. Sherman has been ill since last spring but was believed to be getting well. A week ago he insisted on going to the polling place to register, although he had been warned by Dr. Peck that such action might be dangerous. On his return he was forced to go to bed and the doctor was hurriedly called. On Saturday, members of the family were greatly alarmed by a sudden relapse. Yesterday Mr. Sherman was able to walk about his room, but he had a very bad night last night. He was somewhat better today. Dr. Peck said that this afternoon he seemed to be resting comfortably and he hoped that he might now improve. "But he is a very sick man," said the doctor.

In a speech to his cabinet today: "It is true that Roumania's political position has been rendered difficult but our military strength is sufficient to protect us."

The Roumanian view is that between Bulgaria and Russia, which hem the country in on two sides, he nation is in danger of being swallowed in the Balkan commotion. Especial alarm has been created by a concentration of Russian cavalry and Russian aeroplane reconnaissance on the frontier.

Turkey Claims Kirk Killisa
BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—The Turkish war ministry stuck to its story this afternoon of the re-capture of Kirk Killisa from the Bulgarians. War office attaches added that, while Turkey's mobilization has been slow strong reinforcements are now being pushed to the front and that a long series of Turkish victories may now be expected.

CHILDREN ARE INVITED BY ELKS

All Under Fifteen May See Minstrel Show Free of Charge Tomorrow
Night

Not because all of the seats in the gallery in the La Crosse Theater could not have been sold, but because they want all the children of the city to have a chance to see their big minstrel show, the Elks have invited all children under fifteen years of age to see their annual minstrel show free of charge tomorrow night.

The entire gallery will be given over to the children and it is expected that every seat there will be filled by some child who would not have seen the show except by the invitation of the Elks.

According to the advance sale of seats there will not be an empty chair in the theater tonight nor tomorrow night. The largest part of the seats for both nights were sold early Saturday within a few hours after they had been placed on sale.

At the dress rehearsal Saturday night the finishing touch was put on perhaps the classiest bunch of minstrel talent that ever performed before a La Crosse audience. Seventy-five people in every manner of act and specialty that make the minstrel show one of the favorite amusements of the American people, trained to a superlative point by Holly Shepard and his wife during the last three or four weeks, are waiting for the curtain to rise tonight. Thirty young ladies the most accomplished in the city, will appear before the footlights in acts that are sure to please.

The show will go with a snap and there will not be a slow minute between the time that the curtain goes up until the end of the last act. Several changes in the program will be made for the show tomorrow night.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 28.—Under the name of Lilora Hites, a woman known to police throughout the United States as "International Nora," alias Maggie Moore and a dozen other aliases, was arrested here this afternoon and sentenced to prison for ninety days.

She has served terms in the Illinois state penitentiary, St. Louis, Omaha, Buffalo, Detroit, Boston, Toronto and the Missouri state penitentiary and is known to police of continental Europe, the records say.

GIFT OF MIKADO TO GRANT LOST

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Frank M. Grant, by the emperor of Japan. Jones said the ring was lost six months ago, that it was worth $5,000, and that it was believed to have gone down a drain pipe in the Hotel Renaissance, New York, and that hope of ever securing it had been abandoned.

IRVING FISHER IS FOR WILSON

Noted Yale Economist Appeals to Fellow Progressives with Clear Logic

SAYS TARIFF IS THE ISSUE

Contrasts Three Party Programs and Declares the Democratic Attitude
Progressive One

By PROF. IRVING FISHER.
[Note.—Dr. Fisher is the noted authority on economics of Yale university. He was a member of President Roosevelt's national conservation commission.—Ed.]

I write not as a Democrat but as an independent Progressive and in the hope that my letter may help other Progressives who are wavering to make up their minds to vote for Wilson. So far as I can see the only hope of progressive legislation lies in the election of Wilson. My reasons, in brief, follow:

1. DEADLOCK IN CONGRESS.—If it were possible to elect Mr. Taft there would merely be repeated the same deadlock with congress and failure to secure progressive legislation which has been experienced in his first term.

If it were possible to elect Mr. Roosevelt even less could be accomplished, for the reason that he would not have a sympathetic congress.

2. DEADLOCKED ELECTION.—To be still more practical, we should consider that the result of us independent voting for Taft or Roosevelt instead of for Wilson may be to prevent any one of the three from being elected.

3. THE TARIFF.—If, on the other hand, we independent Progressives unite for the most part in voting for Wilson he can be elected, and, if elected, can accomplish substantial legislation, because with him will be elected a sufficient number of Democrats to give a majority in both houses. To this my Bull Moose friends reply that not all Democrats are progressives and will not carry out a progressive platform.

This argument overlooks the fact that the paramount issue of this campaign is the tariff and that progressive tariff reform means progressive tariff reduction. It is just because the Democrats have been a party of negation, so far as the tariff is concerned, that they, if anybody, can be trusted to reform it downward.

Mr. Roosevelt would be equally unable and far more unwilling than Mr. Taft to reduce the tariff. In his seven years in office he left the tariff untouched, and now he speaks primarily as a protectionist and not as a tariff reformer. He yields grudgingly to the demand for tariff reduction, but gives no clear argument for it. Instead, he repeats the old fallacious arguments to make our poor workmen believe that a high tariff raises wages.

Governor Wilson and his party, on the other hand, are ardent tariff reformers. In this respect the Democratic platform is the only progressive platform of the three.

Why should we blind ourselves by the introduction of numerous other issues which could not be settled in the present campaign when we have before us the greatest issue of all, the tariff, which CAN be settled?

4. ISSUES ECONOMIC.—Wilson's grasp of the problems of the hour far surpasses that of Roosevelt or Taft. Mr. Roosevelt has frequently admitted that economic problems such as the tariff, the cost of living, the currency and the economic problems connected with trusts not only have no attraction for him, but have never been understood by him.

5. THE PEOPLE'S INTERESTS.—Wilson is more truly democratic than Roosevelt and more untrammeled in his devotion to the interests of the people as a whole. . . . Those who accuse Wilson of recently adopting new democratic doctrines because their popularity would help him personally should learn that, on the contrary, he adopted them (in his fight to democratize Princeton university) when their unpopularity in the circles in which his activities then lay nearly threatened to destroy his influence and career.

6. PURE FOODS.—Governor Wilson and the Democratic party have shown a greater interest than either Taft or Roosevelt in the protection of the consumer against food adulteration and other injuries to the public health. Dr. Wiley, although previously a Republican, now has decided not only to vote for Wilson, but to help him actively in the campaign.

7. THIRD TERM.—To elect Mr. Roosevelt would deal a fatal blow to the useful tradition against a third term. . . . Nor do I think it altogether improbable that if Mr. Roosevelt were again elected president he would, whatever his present intentions, gradually assume the role of benevolent despot. His natural temperament is that of a dictator.

I write as one who still holds personal respect both for Colonel Roosevelt and President Taft and in no spirit of personal hostility to either. I believe that all three candidates intend to do right "as God gives them to see the right," but I think neither Taft nor Roosevelt sees the right as clearly as Woodrow Wilson.

BRYAN HELPS WILSON
PLANS TO END TWO MONTHS ON STUMP BY TOUR OF NEBRASKA FOR THE GOVERNOR
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28.—William J. Bryan purposes to make good on his pledge to orate as zealously for Woodrow Wilson as he would if he himself were the democratic nominee. His two months' stumping tour, starting in the far west and taking him into the eastern states, is to terminate in a four days' clean up of Nebraska—the commoner's home state.
Bryan is especially anxious to see Nebraska swing into the Wilson column and will start from Lincoln Thursday, October 31, on a tour which will take him into two-thirds of the counties in the state. The state committee has provided a special train for the trip and the Bryan party will include virtually every state and congressional candidate on the democratic ticket.

FEAR CUBAN TROUBLES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Despite the agreement of state department officials to belittle reports of disorders in Havana, it became apparent today that there is very much worry over the situation and the department is ready to send either army or navy forces to Cuba to prevent a general uprising.
Uneasiness among officials is due to fear of trouble as to the outcome of the Cuban elections on November first. The conservatives would win, it is thought, were it not for the activity of the Gomez administration. Hope of peace, officials here say, depends upon the conservative ticket.

This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.
Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.
But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. ### TAX LEVY LOWER

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 28.—The secretary of state on Saturday gave out the state tax levy for the year 1912, which will be paid next year. The tax this year amounts to $2,566,711. This is $1,172,877 less than last year and $1,104,228 less than the year before, showing the economy of the republican administration. The difference is chiefly accounted for by the remission of $2,000,000 in taxes recently made by the secretary of state.

The straight and narrow path doesn't look good to the rounder.

Woodrow Wilson's Message to the American People

See Girt, M. J., Oct. 19, 1912.
To the Voters of America:
I am glad to have an opportunity to state very simply and directly why I am seeking to be elected President of the United States. I feel very deeply that this is not an ambition a man should entertain for his own sake. He must seek to serve a cause, and must know very clearly what, cause it is he is seeking to serve.
The cause I am enlisted in lies very plain to my own view: The Government of the United States, as now bound by the policies which have become characteristic of Republican administration in recent years, is not free to serve the whole people impartially, and it ought to be set free. It has been tied up, whether deliberately or merely by unintentional development, with particular interests, which have used their power, both to control the government and to control the industrial development of the country. It must be freed from such entanglements and alliances. Until it is freed, it cannot serve the people as a whole. Until it is freed, it cannot undertake any programme of social and economic betterment, but must be checked and thwarted at every turn by its patrons and masters.
In practically every speech that I make, I put at the front of what I have to say the question of the tariff and the question of the trusts, but not because of any thought of party strategy, because I believe the solution of these questions to lie at the very heart of the bigger question, whether the government shall be free or not. The government is not free because it has granted special favors to particular classes by means of the tariff. The men to whom these special favors have been granted have formed great combinations by which to control enterprise and determine the prices of commodities. They could not have done this had it not been for the tariff. No party, therefore, which does not propose to take away these special favors and prevent monopoly absolutely in the markets of the country sees even so much as the most elementary part of the method by which the government is to be set free.
The control to which tariff legislation has led, both in the field of politics and in the field of business, is in what has produced the most odious feature of our present political situation, namely, the absolute domination of powerful bosses. Bosses cannot exist without business alliances. With these politics is hardly distinguishable from business. Bosses maintain their control because they are allied with men who wish their assistance in order to get contracts, in order to obtain special legislative advantages, in order to prevent reforms which will interfere with monopoly or with their enjoyment of special exemptions. Merely as political leaders, not backed by money, not supported by securely entrenched special interests, bosses would be entirely manageable and comparatively powerless. By freeing the government, therefore, we at the same time break the power of the boss. He trades, he does not govern. He arranges, he does not lead. He sets the stage for what the people are to do; he does not act as their agent or servant, but as their director. For him the real business of politics is done under cover.
The same means that will set the government free from the influences which now constantly control it would set industry free. The enterprise and initiative of all Americans would be substituted for the enterprise and initiative of a small group of them. Economic democracy would take the place of monopoly and selfish management. American industry would have a new buoyancy of hope, a new energy, a new variety. With the restoration of freedom would come the restoration of opportunity.

Moreover, an administration would-at last be set up in Washington, and a legislative regime, under which real programmes of social betterment could be undertaken as they cannot now. The government might be serviceable for many things. It might assist in a hundred ways to safeguard the lives and the health and promote the comfort and the happiness of the people; but it can do these things only if its actions be disinterested, only if they respond to public opinion, only if those who lead government see the country as a whole, feel a deep thrill of intimate sympathy with every class and every interest in it, know how to hold an even hand and listen to men of every sort and quality and origin, in taking counsel what is to be done. Interest must not fight against interest. There must be a common understanding and a free action all together.
The reason that I feel justified in appealing to the voters of this country to support the Democratic party at this critical juncture in its affairs is that the leaders of neither of the other parties propose to attack the problem of a free government at its heart. Neither proposes to make a fundamental change in the policy of the government with regard to tariff duties. It is with both of them in respect of the tariff merely a question of more or less, merely a question of lopping off a little here and amending a little there; while with the Democrats it is a question of principle. Their object is to cut every special favor out, and cut it out just as fast as it can be cut out without upsetting the business processes of the country. Neither does either of the other parties propose seriously to disturb the supremacy of the trusts. Their only remedy is to accept the trusts and regulate them, notwithstanding the fact that most of the trusts are so constructed as to insure high prices, because they are not based upon efficiency but upon monopoly. Their success lies in control. The competition of more efficient competitors, not loaded down by the debts created when the combinations were made, would embarrass and conquer them. The trusts want the protection of the government, and are likely to get it if either the Republican or the so-called "Progressive" party prevails.
Surely this is a cause. Surely the questions of the pending election, looked at from this point of view, rise into a cause. They are not merely the debates of a casual party contest. They are the issues of life and death to a nation which must be free in order to be strong. What will patriotic men do?

PIE CAUSES A RUMPUS

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT HAILED INTO COURT IN ROW OVER NICKEL'S WORTH OF PIE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The beautiful place where suffragettes eat, the anti-high cost of living lunch room, established for working girls by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, is all a-tremor over the question of how much pie for a nickel.

Mrs. Alice Clancy, Madame Clancy, modiste, 467 Fifth avenue, in the trade, started the excitement when she was bounced from the feminine food emporium because she was not served with two slices of a la mode after she claims she had paid ten cents. The waitress said she had only a five cent chip. Mrs. Clancy claims that Mrs. Belmont herself bounced her and accordingly got a "Jane Doe" summons to have the rich society leader brought into court Monday to have it out over the piece of pie and the resultant bouncing, properly referred by Magistrate Murphy.

Mrs. Harry Morgan, manageress of the lunch room, says Mrs. Belmont didn't do it. "Mrs. Clancy is just one of those disagreeable women, that's all," she said.

To grow old gracefully a man ought to get gray before he gets bald. It comes much harder for some people to spend money than to make it.

WOMAN GANG VICTIM?

THOUGHT TO BE SLAIN BECAUSE SHE WAS EYE WITNESS TO DEATH IN STREET DUEL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28.—Whether one of the gunmen gangs claimed the life of Bridget Calnan, 59, because she was a witness to the killing of "Bad Jack" Cotty, last month, was the question which the police were endeavoring to solve today.

The body of the woman found in the basement of an old mansion here Saturday, has been identified as that of Miss Calnan, but no clue has yet been found that would lead to the arrest of the murderers. It is known, however, that Miss Calnan, witness of the shooting of Cotty by Wm. R. Schinnick, Cotty, former leader of the "Bottoms" gang and Schinnick emptied revolvers at each other in a street duel. Cotty was instantly killed and Schinnick wounded.

POSTPONE SALEM TRIAL

COURT HOUSE, SALEM, Mass., Oct. 28.—Court was adjourned until Wednesday in the Etor-Giovanitti-Carusio trial when James Simpson informed Judge Quinn that John Carter, the juror stricken with the grippe Friday night, was still unable to appear.

NEGRO CAUSES ANGER

MILLIONAIRE'S DAUGHTER IS FORCED TO COMPETE AT HORSE SHOW WITH COLORED GROOM

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28.—St. Louis society was excited and indignant Saturday and a veritable tempest was raging as a result of Miss Louisa Long, daughter of a Kansas City millionaire, being forced to compete against a negro groom of Mrs. Julius S. Walsh, Jr., of St. Louis, in the light harness class at the horse show. At first it was reported that Miss Long would not appear with any of her entries, but she says she has changed her mind and will drive.

Competition between Miss Long and Mrs. Walsh has been the interest of the show. Friday night she was surprised to see Mrs. Walsh's negro groom driving her entry, and when signalled to drive about the ring, in competition with the negro, Miss Long refused. The negro was then called to the center and Miss Long showed alone. She was given the blue ribbon.

LA CROSSE WOMAN IS NEARLY KILLED

Mrs. James Adams Seriously Injured in Accident Near Chaseburg

MAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Tongue of Buggy Drops from Neckyoke on Hill; Four Thrown Into Ravine

Mrs. James Adams, La Crosse, and George Morrisson, Jr., Chaseburg, are lying near death today as the result of an accident one mile south of Chaseburg this morning, in which they were hurled from a buggy into a ravine twenty feet below.

While descending a steep hill, the tongue of the buggy dropped from the neck-yoke, struck a rock and threw the buggy over a fence and into the ravine below. As the buggy was thrown into the air, Mrs. Adams and George Morrisson were hurled over the fence and fell crashing against the rocks near the bottom of the ravine. An instant later the buggy followed, landing within a few feet of them. George Morrisson, Sr., and James Adams, who were also in the buggy at the time of the accident, escaped uninjured.

The men hurried to the aid of Mrs. Adams and George Morrisson. The woman was lying unconscious with both arms broken and serious injuries about the back and shoulders. The young man is believed to be internally injured and received injuries about the spinal column which may prove fatal.

Physicians were hurriedly summoned and the injured removed to Chaseburg. Their condition was announced as extremely serious upon medical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams, who reside about a mile south of La Crosse, had been visiting at the Morrisson home south of Chaseburg and were going to that village to take the train to La Crosse when the accident occurred.

ELKS MINSTRELS TO OPEN TONIGHT

Best Show of the Local Herd's Record Will Be Seen Two Nights at La Crosse Theater

The big Elks' Minstrels, climax of amateur theatricals in La Crosse for the year opens tonight. The show will be put on at the La Crosse theater for two nights in succession, and judging from the advance sale of seats there will be a crowd at each performance. Although hundreds of seats have been reserved already for both nights, many good seats remain yet unsold, and the rush at the box office continues unabated.

With the Elks who are to take part in the show, enthusiasm is at a fever heat. Each year the lodge has had more experience and put on a better show, and the performers this year are anxious to keep up the record and surpass even last year's excellent showing. A full dress rehearsal has been held at which all the actors went through their stunts with professional precision, and made even the stage hands laugh with their "comedy stuff." The cast is letter perfect, and Holly Shepard, producer, expects to score a triumph.

The minstrel show will be a real society event, as well as a cracker-jack entertainment. The rush for reservations when the seat sale opened Saturday saw a number of the most prominent people in the city mixed up in the scrimmage at the Theater Candy store, waiting patiently for hours for a chance at the dwindling supply of tickets in Miss Larson's rack.

It's a show for sweet charity, but everyone gets his money's worth as well as the satisfaction of boosting a big cause. Holly Shepard, "Punch" Niemeyer and the other stars of the production are experts, more than amateurs, and the show would be cheap at the usual prices for first class companies.

CALLS ON SENATOR TO SUPPORT WILSON

RIPON, Wis., Oct. 28.—In an address at the Opera house Saturday night, T. M. Kearney of Racine, said that Senator La Follette was making a mistake in not coming out for Wilson; that if he knew, as he said the nation was ill, it was his duty to join his neighbors in calling the doctor in.

"If Senator La Follette fails to do this, under the circumstances he marks himself as a partisan who holds party above country," said Mr. Kearney. "It is his duty to vote for some candidate for the presidency. He is setting a very questionable example for his neighbors and followers. He is failing to do his duty as a citizen and to extend a helping hand to his country in a time of danger."

M'FARLAND ARRESTED

ACQUITTED OF WIFE'S MURDER
HE IS HELD ON CHARGE OF COUNTERFEIT-
ING

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—"If I committed any crime, it was certainly without intent. All I was trying to do was to find a method of manufacturing jewelry which would be cheap," declared Allison M. MacFarland in United States Commissioner Shield's court today. He had been arrested last night, charged with counterfeiting and in default of $5,000 bail, was committed to the Tombs for examination later.

MacFarland, who was acquitted of the murder of his wife in Newark a little over a week ago, had half sections of a number of United States coins which he had made and it was said that he had made some of them in the Essex county jail while awaiting trial. This MacFarland admitted in court. He said that he had been unable to get work, that he had invented a new way of copying expensive jewelry cheaply, and was working to perfect it, using coins as models, and not knowing that he was committing any crime.

A man will never reach the top who is too lazy to move until he is pushed.

CONSUL GENERAL IS LA CROSSE VISITOR

G. Bie Ravndal, American consul general at Constantinople, arrived here Saturday for a short visit with Rev. H. G. Magelsson, his brother-in-law. Mr. Ravndal recently attended the International Congress of Commercial Organizations held in Boston, and during his stay in the United States is speaking before the commercial organizations of various cities urging them to increase the commerce between the United States and the orient. He will probably speak before the board of trade of La Crosse before he leaves this city.

COMPANY ASKS DELAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The first move of the arbitration board to settle the difference between the union men and the owners of the city electric transportation lines was marked by an effort of the companies to gain delay. Attorney Moore for the owners said he wanted more time because he was compelled to make a business trip to Pittsburg. Judge Carter, the umpire, insisted that the investigation of the troubles proceed without delay, saying that he had come from Springfield to attend the meetings, leaving important work undone.

MADERO IS IN TROUBLE

NO MATTER WHAT HE DOES
WITH DIAZ HE WILL BE BUTT OF POPULAR IN-DIGNATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—That President Madero of Mexico is again facing a crisis, was indicated by official advices today. He is said to be wavering with regard to the execution of General Felix Diaz, former rebel general. No matter which way he decides, either to have Diaz shot or pardoned, official information is that there will be a big wave of public sentiment in Mexico against him. Officials here consider the Mexican situation today more serious than at any time within the past few weeks, although this seriousness is not apparent on the surface.

U. S. RUNS DOMINGO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—San Domingo's finances are in Uncle Sam's hands. Despatches to the state department today said that Brigadier General McIntyre and W. T. S. Doyle special state department agent, are at work straightening out the Dominican republic's debts, and will remain in San Domingo until they have cleared up affairs.

SUSPECT CAUGHT AT BURLINGTON DEPOT

Claude Meyers was arrested near the Burlington station Saturday evening by Detective T. P. Enright of the Burlington railroad while attempting to board a train leaving the city. Enright refused to permit Meyers to board the train, whereupon the latter threatened to shoot and reached toward his hip pocket. Enright floored him and then drawing his own revolver took him to central police station.

Upon investigation it was learned by the police today that Meyers had shown George Schneeberger a telegram from a southern city containing the information that his mother was dying and had induced Schneeberger to loan him $5 upon an order on Thomas Woolley so that he could purchase a ticket for his home. He was about to board a north bound train when arrested. The order upon Woolley is for money due as wages, but it is believed that Meyers had nothing coming. He is being held and will be tried for obtaining money under false pretense.

You can borrow enough trouble in an hour to keep you busy paying it back for the rest of your life.

BECKER QUITS HOPING

CONVICTED POLICE LIEUTENANT THINKS APPEAL WILL NOT SAVE HIM
FROM CHAIR

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Asserting that he is convinced he is to be "offered as a sacrifice to public clamor," former Police Lieut. Charles Becker indicated in his cell in the Tombs today that if he had been permitted to tell his own story on the witness stand he would never have been found guilty of murder. Becker was blaming his lawyers for not letting him talk. Incidentally it was reported that when he is arraigned on Wednesday he may insist on proclaiming his innocence whether Justice Goff permits him to talk or not. He said:

"I am no longer optimistic. I think I can see that I am to suffer because of public clamor and I have little hope that the appeal, in my case will be successful."

Many men are out of work because they want a job as soft as a vacation, but with larger pay.

CHARGED TO SCENERY.

THE farmer who had dropped into the hardware store to make a purchase found a salesman there who had been a summer boarder at his house the year previous, and after they had shaken hands the young man asked:

"Shall you advance rates this summer?"

"Sure, my boy. You know how the price of things has gone up."

"How much advance will you make?"

"A dollar a week. I have got it all figured out here. There will be twenty cents extra on the fresh eggs."

"But you didn't have an egg of any sort on the table last summer."
"Fifteen cents extra on fresh milk."
"But you gave us skimmed milk."
"Twenty on fresh butter."
"But you bought your butter in town."
"And there is the golden oream for coffee."
"But we saw nothing but condensed milk."
"And chickens killed right on the spot."
"I don't know what you did with 'em, as you fed us on veal."
"And hired help has gone up," said the farmer.

"But you and your wife did all the work."
"Um! As I said, I will have to charge a dollar a week more."
"Then it must be for the scenery."
"Well, yes it is."
"Changed, has it?"
"Sure. Two weeks ago lightning struck that old dead oak behind the barn and knocked thunder out of it and improved the scenery just twenty per cent!"

JOE KERR.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

The barefoot boy who'd lost a leg Cried out in his delight;
"Gee whiz! I'm glad a wooden peg Won't need be washed each night."

ECONOMY.

"Your husband goes to every baseball game."
"Yes, Henry is economizing. When the home team loses he's too disappointed to eat any dinner, and when it wins he's too enthusiastic."

TECHNICALLY INCORRECT.
The Doctor—He's what you might call a walking lamp of knowledge.
The Professor—Not exactly; he's a roamin' candle.

Found At Last.

I WENT down to Texas three years ago to find a man named Griggs," said an Eastern land speculator in the smoking car. "He owned a tract of land I wanted to buy. He wasn't home and I followed his trail for a week. At Lone Pine they told me he was at Cedar Valley, and it being high noon I went to the hotel for dinner. I had about finished when the landlord came in and said:

"I believe you were asking about Jim Griggs?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, he's here in town."
"I'm glad of that."
"But he's not in shape to do business today."
"Drunk?"
"I shouldn't call it that."
"Sick?"
"Noap. You see he came down here to bluff the town. He'd always said he could do it."
"And—apd—?"
"And if you want to know how he came out go down the street three blocks."
"I walked down and found him hanging to a lamp-post, and the only man who had anything to say about it was a bartender, who shook his head in a pitying way and remarked: "Jim must have been off his nut for sure to climb up there and do that to himself!"

JOE KERR.

"A precautionary measure."

Why It Was Slow.

THE man with the black pearl pin in his tie was telling us about being in Washington and what he saw there, when the old man with the top-shoulder leaned forward and asked:

"I 'spose you saw the monument while there?"

"Oh, of course."

"And made a trip to the top in the elevator?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever see an elevator ascend more slowly?"

"Never in my life. We were two hours and a half getting to the top."

"Oh, you must be mistaken about that, sir. It's surely a slow elevator, but I believe it makes the trip in 15 minutes."

"But I figured it at full two hours and a half."

"You must have been impatient to reach the top."

"Well, I guess it was that way. There was only one other person in the cage, and that was my divorced wife, and I guess we were both in a hurry to separate again!"

JOE KERR.

A HARD CAMPAIGN.

Hobo—Will you please help an old survivor, mum?

Lady—An old survivor of what?

Hobo—Of the winter of 1912, mum.

MAKING IT LEGAL.

First Cowboy—We didn't know what to do about Big Bill. He was a real good fellow in a way, but he would be careless about shootin' up the populace.

Second Cowboy—Did you straighten out the matter?

First Cowboy—To some extent. We elected him sheriff, thereby makin' it look a little more legal.

REVISE DIVIDING OF SERIES MONEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—To put an end to all squabbling and unsavory gossip, the national baseball commission is said to be considering a thorough revision of the money division from the annual world's series. President Garry Herrmann is said to favor a new plan that provides $1,000 for each member of the winning team, and $750 for each man of the losing combination. The remainder of the usual percentage in the first four games would be distributed among the players of fourteen major league teams. Another part of the plan provides the definite apportionment of a certain sum from the total receipts for the two clubs participating in the series. The feeling seems to be general that the league club owners and all the players in general should share generously in the receipts. The commission is expected to consider the new plan at its winter meeting here.

PLAYERS' SALARIES NOT CUT IN A. A.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—President Thomas Chivington of the American association, today said that the organization intended to stand pat on its present salary limit for baseball players. A discussion lasting five hours was indulged in yesterday by the club owners in the association, preparatory to the action the American association magnates will take when the National Association of Minor League meets in Milwaukee next month.

It was the opinion of the American association owners, according to Chivington, that it was not practical to lower the salary limit, and establish a universal rule, because of local conditions in practically every city that make it impossible to fix a certain sum that would be agreeable to all leagues of that class.

THREE TEAMS HAVE CHANCE FOR TITLE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—The championship pennant of Ohio conference, embracing twelve elevens, will be captured this season by either Oberlin, Case or Ohio State. Reserve had a chance until Saturday when Oberlin eliminated them. Oberlin will play Wooster next Saturday with assurance of winning. One aspirant will be eliminated in the Case-Ohio State game Saturday, the winner to face Oberlin.

NELSON BOUT POSTPONED

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Battling Nelson today said he was glad his bout with Matty Baldwin at Pilgram, Ill., had been postponed for two weeks, because he accepted the match on a week's notice, and that was not as much time as he needed to train. Bicycle races in the Pilgram arena during the next two weeks made the postponement necessary.

Wisconsin and Chicago will not decide the Big Nine football championship at Madison next Saturday afternoon—as had been fondly anticipated.

Minnesota has horned into the title argument again, and this time the Gophers are being viewed with more respect than has been accorded them at any other time this season.

Minnesota's overwhelming defeat of Iowa at Minneapolis Saturday opened the eyes of conference football dopesters. Heretofore the northerners had been conceded only an outside chance in the championship chase, but the exhibition of class given by Minnesota against the Hawkeyes has forced everyone to revise their opinion of the Gophers.

One Team to be Eliminated
This week probably will witness the elimination of one of the trio of championship contenders as the Badgers and the Maroons will tie into each other at Camp Randall in what will be the most crucial struggle of the year. Past performances would indicate that the Cardinals are likely to return victorious but comparative scores never yet have furnished an accurate estimate of the strength of rival teams.

The close fought battle between Chicago and Purdue on Saturday has encouraged supporters of Wisconsin, still it is doubtful whether Coach Stagg drove his athletes to their utmost in that contest. A victory over Purdue was all that Stagg aimed for, probably, and with the game well in hand it is likely that he issued orders for the Maroons not to take chances of injury. That may account for the fact that Chicago beat Purdue by but one touchdown, while Wisconsin outplayed, outplayed, and outbooted the same aggregation of Boilermakers just the week before and scored almost at will.

It must be admitted, however, that if Coach Stagg was holding his men back they were perfect actors in their parts. The Maroon line was weak and the interference poor. Their attack also lacked unity.

This week will be marked by vigorous preparation on the part of the Badgers for Saturday's important conflict. Advice from Madison indicates that Coach Juneau will present his strongest battle front against the Maroons. The Cardinal squad is remarkably free of cripples and all the boys are keen for the coming fray. Vay Ripper's injury is not ex-

STOTHART'S RUN DEFEATS NORMALS

Halfback Intercepts Pass and Dashes 85 Yards for Touchdown, Giving Milwaukee 16-7 Victory

TURNS DEFEAT TO VICTORY

Great Run Turns Tide, as Locals Led by One Point at the Time

With a score of 7 to 6 in favor of the local normal school football team and about six minutes left to play, Stothart of the Milwaukee team intercepted a forward pass and sprinted eighty-five yards for a touchdown thereby enabling his team to win a game which had much to do with the state championship for normal schools. This run was the most spectacular of the season thus far and was more exciting than that of Voelkman for the Eau Claire high school two years ago. Not satisfied with this performance Stothart booted a dropkick over the goal posts a few minutes later which made the final score of the game; Milwaukee, 16; La Crosse, 7.

The three hundred spectators at this game saw the best game of football played here for a long time as both teams went into the game for victory and every man on each team played football all the time he was on the field. The first quarter did not develop anything exceptional in the line of football as both teams were working to find out the other's strength before they opened up with anything tricky. In the second quarter the locals went in with a rush and played the best football of the day. Milwaukee did most of the aggressive work in the remaining two quarters but had to work hard all the time to score. Both teams were noticeably weak on the defensive as it was seldom that either team had to punt or was held for downs. If there had not been so many penalties the score would have been much larger on both sides.

The Milwaukee team was exceptionally fast in the backfield, such men as Captain Hanson, Stothart, Eastman and Meyer forming a bunch of players that were hard to stop when they got their interference formed. Lucas the big guard, was a tower of strength for the visitors and he often plowed through the local's line and stopped a play before it was well on its way.

The locals played a better open game than did their opponents and they showed a better style of open field running. Downey, the local quarterback, was the star of the game. The way he ran back punts and piloted the team was great. Griffin, Swancutt and Hyde also showed up well for the locals and are directly responsible for the locals' scores.

The game opened with Milwaukee kicking off to the locals who chose to defend the west goal which was with the wind. Neither team scored in this quarter, the ball seasawing up and down the center of the center of the field most of the time. Once the visitors came near to scoring when they attempted a drop kick from the twenty-five yard line. The kick went wide and the locals put the ball in play on the twenty yard line shortly before time was called.

The locals started the second quarter much stronger than the first and whenever they obtained the ball, would take it down the field with a rush. After about five minutes of play in this period Downey opened up several new plays which combined with a forward pass to Hyde took the ball up to the Milwaukee 18 yard line. Griffin took the ball from here on three downs to the eight yard line. The crowd in the grand stand was yelling for a touchdown. The visitors were here penalized for off side play which took the ball to the three yard line, the crowd going wild. On a delayed pass Griffin took the ball to the one yard line. A well executed forward pass over the goal line to Hyde scored the first touchdown of the game. Newlin kicked goal making the score, La Crosse 7; Milwaukee 0. The quarter ended with the ball in possession of the locals on their fifteen yard line where the Milwaukeeans punted after the kickoff.

The visiting pedagogues came back strong in the third quarter and with a series of plunges by Hanson, Stothart, Dougherty, Meyers and Eastman they were able to score a touchdown. It required hard work, though as it was fourth down and goal to go and Hanson took the ball around the end for three yards making the count by inches. Lucas failed at goal which still left the locals in the lead by one point. Later in this quarter the locals worked the ball down to the visitors thirty yard line from where Griffin took the oval to the fifteen yard line on a beautifully directed forward pass from Downey. On a tackle over tackle play McGlynn took the ball to the ten yard line. On two plays Griffin took the ball to the two yard line. Newlin lost on the third down just as time was called for the quarter.

With two yards to go for another touch down and one one down to make it in Downey called on Griffin who had been making gains at will through the Milwaukee line but in their desperation the visitors held and the touchdown was missed by inches. Milwaukee punted out of danger and the ball was in the center of the field until near the end of the period when the locals had carried the ball to the 15 yard line on a series of straight football plays and were gaining all the time. It looked like another touchdown. A signal for a forward pass was given and the ball was passed by Griffin into a mass of players. Stothart intercepted the oval and rushed from the throng of players with a clear field before him and started on a mad dash for the goal 85 yards away. Griffin rushed after him but was unable to overtake the fleet runner. Goal was kicked by Lucas. Score: Milwaukee 13; La Crosse 7. Within five minutes of the end of the game with the locals in the lead and chances for another touchdown the locals were defeated. A few minutes later Stothart added three more points to his team's total by placing a drop kick over the goal posts from the twenty yard line.

Those in the party are Bender, Lapp, Coombs, Barry, Baker, Thomas, Plank, McInnis, Strunk and Oldring.

YALE DEVELOPING POWERFUL MACHINE; PHILBIN GREAT SUCCESS AT LEFT HALE

Gene Philbin.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Unless all signs fail, Yale will have a powerful, almost irresistible scoring machine for its final games. Football of the old-fashioned type will be the rule from now on, the coaches feeling certain that the team is one of great power and can be depended upon for short but steady gains through the old reliable type of play. So all the fancy plays are to be abandoned.

Fullback Lefty Flynn's capabilities as a punter and runner in an open field will round out the team's attack to just the extent needed. Gene Philbin is proving one of the best ground gainers on the squad. He was sent to left half this fall when Walter Camp, Jr., was kept from practice because of neuritis. Philbin has made good, and is now a strong asset to the Eli backfield.

The quarterback situation seems to be clearing with Wheeler the leading contender for the position. He made a good showing in Saturday's game with Washington and Jefferson.
